Fellowship

Helping to build an inclusive community

The primary focus for Maumee Valley Chapter Partners for Inclusion, formerly Maumee Valley Civitan, is to enhance the quality of life for persons with developmental disabilities through the organization of inclusive activities in the community.

Activities have included:

- Summer trips to Cedar Point;
- The sale of ceramic garden art that not only was a great fundraiser for the club but helped provide employment for the individuals with developmental disabilities who made the art;
- Voter forums;
- Attendance at professional sporting events, such as the Mud Hens; and
- Support to individuals and organizations that advocate on behalf of people with developmental disabilities.

The passion

The common passion members feel toward service to individuals with developmental disabilities has fueled the development of Partners for Inclusion into a strong, vibrant service club. In the club's short ten year history, we have earned several international and state awards for programs, web site, and club development.

A strong commitment to service

While Maumee Valley Chapter Partners for Inclusion maintains a focus on individuals with developmental disabilities, members also have a strong commitment to community service. Partners improve their community by helping others. They seek to be more informed about the community and improve themselves through lifelong learning. Because Partners are concerned community leaders, they seek knowledge through informative programs to learn about the needs of their communities.

Fellowship

Fellowship is an important part of a vibrant, productive organization. Working together on projects is fun, and there is always time to enjoy the friendship of fellow members.
